

Objective and activities as of July 2020:

The purpose of the project was to preserve the natural habitats in the project region, which covers some 35,000 km², and to conserve its carbon reservoir. Measures included developing and implementing sustainable and participatory land-use management strategies, controlling forest and game resources, and promoting appropriate socio-economic development.